WASHINGTON.

CONDITION OF PUBLIC FINANCES.

An Authorized Statement Forthcoming.

Democrats Want a Speech from Mr. Seward.

HE DON'T TRAIN IN THAT CROWD.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 1, 1868.

The Public Finances.

In the discussions which have arisen since the publication of Delmar's letter relative to the deficiency in the national revenue, one heavy item of expenditure has apparently been overlooked—that of the payment of bounties to soldiers, which will cease entirely before the end of the present year, as all the funds required to pay outstanding claims of this description will be drawn from the Treasury during this or next month, after which the Government will be relieved entirely from this heavy drain. Secretary McCulloch intends shortly to authorize the publication of a statement of the exact financial condition of the Government, which will show the errors in Delmar's figuring, which are calculated to injure the public credit, coming from an official source.

Seward for Grant.

It has transpired that Secretary Seward, within a few days past, was invited by some New York Democratic politicians to address a Seymour and Blair meeting, in reply to which Seward told them very emphatically that he did not intend to support those candidates; that he was a Republican and should support Grant.

Personal.

James Campbell, formerly a United States Judge, and at one time Assistant Secretary of War of the Confederacy, and A. G. McGrath, both of South Carolina, are here on business relative to Southern affairs.

THE SPANISH REVOLUTION.

Speculations as to the Succession.

Another Civil War Predicted.

MOVEMENTS OF THE ROYAL FAMILY.

Speculations on Spanish Affairs.

LONDON, October 1.—The success of the revolutionary movement in Spain ending as it has in the expulsion of Queen Isabella, gives rise to much speculation as to her probable successor to the Spanish throne. It is generally believed that the known dislike of Napoleon to the Queen's family is fatal to the hopes of the Montpensiers, and that a Cabinet will be chosen to rule over Spain. It is regarded as impossible. The ancient rights of the house of Savoy to the throne of Spain are beginning to be discussed, and the Duke of Aosta, the second son of King Victor Emanuel is talked of as an available candidate.

Movements of the Royal Family.

PARIS, October 1.—The La France to-day discusses the prospects of Spain, and predicts that the present revolution there will be followed by a violent civil war.

The Moniteur gives the following account of the late movements of the Spanish Court, Queen of Spain, and members of the royal family who were with her at San Sebastian: They crossed the frontier on the 30th ult. They immediately proceeded to Biarritz, where the Queen had an interview with Napoleon and the Empress Eugenie. After a brief delay the Queen and family left Biarritz for the Castle of Pau, which has been assigned to Her Most Catholic Majesty as a residence during her sojourn in France.

MADRID, October 1.—General Prim and Marshall Serrano have arrived. Citizens are arming themselves and have occupied the guard houses and the various military posts within and around the city. The city of Barcelona has joined the revolution and the Count of Chester has fled from Spain. Foreign residents are sending deputation to the Provincial Junta now in session, to congratulate them on the success of the patriotic movement.

PARIS, October 1.—It is reported that Manuel Concha and Count of Chester have left Spain for France.

Letter of Pope Pius.

Pope Pius IX. has issued an Apostolic letter addressed to all non-Catholic religious bodies, announcing the forthcoming Œcumenical Council, and urging them to seize the occasion thus offered them for rejoining the church.

French Troops Withdrawn.

PARIS, October 1.—The French guards on the Spanish frontier have been withdrawn, and all Spanish fugitives who were arrested at the boundary line have been released.

London Money Market.

LONDON, October 1—Evening.—Consols 94¼. The bullion in the bank has increased £36,000. 5-20's 73¾; Erie 31½; Illinois 93.

Liverpool Markets.

LIVERPOOL, October 1—Evening.—Cotton firmer; sales 15,000 bales middling uplands at 10¼d. The breadstuffs market heavy. Provisions—Beef and pork quiet. Lard dull at 72s. Bacon 58s. Turpentine declining.

Northwestern Indiana M. E. Conference.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

VALPARAISO, October 1, 1868.

The Northwestern Indiana M. E. Conference was engaged, this morning, until about ten o'clock, in the examination of the character of effective Elders, and the remainder of the forenoon session was taken up by a call of the Stewards. The afternoon was occupied by the business meeting of the Missionary and Sunday School Societies of the Conference. Rev. L. Nebecker was called home by the death of his father-in-law, Ellis Linstry, Esq., of Indianapolis. Conference adjourned till morning.

STATE NEWS.

The Meadville Republican says that the apple crop of Crawford county promises to be one of the largest grown for many years. In many orchards the trees are breaking down with their burden of fruit. Crawford is the finest apple producing county in the State.

The Petroleum Centre Record says: We are informed that a party on the Story Farm are engaged in silver mining. It is said that the spirits indicated the fact that silver could be found there.

Mrs. Elizabeth Patton, of Chartiers township, Washington county, hung herself on Friday last. Mrs. Patton had been in ill health for a few weeks, and gave evidences of insanity. There was, however, no suspicion that she intended to commit suicide. On Friday morning she took a piece of a new bed cord, and fixing it to a rafter in a smoke house, hung herself, and was found in almost a kneeling posture.

William Elder, an old and respected citizen of Hollidaysburg, met with a terrible accident on Saturday last, which resulted in his death at nine o'clock on Sunday morning following. Mr. Elder, who was a carpenter, was engaged in making some repairs at the top of the Gaysport Furnace stack, when he slipped and fell headlong from a cross beam. In his descent he struck upon another beam, and falling from that one of his legs caught upon a suspending hook, tearing the limb in a horrible manner. He fell a distance of sixty feet.

The Synod of Wheeling (O. S. Presbyterian) will meet in Washington, Pa., on Friday, October 16th, in the evening, and will be opened with a sermon by the retiring Moderator. Owing to the fact that the rebuilding of the First Presbyterian Church will not be completed, the meeting will be held in the Court House, which is temporarily occupied by the congregation as a place of worship. This Synod embraces near two hundred members, and the session will last probably five or six days.

The "Welsh House," Erie, was destroyed by fire Monday night. There were eighteen boarders in the house at the time, some of whom made narrow escapes with their lives. Loss about $7,000; insurance $4,100.

A passenger train on the London and Northwestern Railroad ran off the track yesterday near Rugby and four persons were killed and several reported severely injured. The accident was caused by a broken rail.

FRAUD.

COLONIZING IN WESTMORELAND.

Wanted, Bricklayers for Irwin's Station.

No Republicans Need Apply.

OFFICE, NO. 104 FIFTH AVENUE.

How John Covode is to be Defeated.

For some time past it has been known to the Republicans of the Twenty-first District that colonizing was going on extensively in Westmoreland and Fayette counties, with a view to the defeat of Hon. John Covode. All efforts to discover who were the leaders in perpetrating this fraud failed until yesterday, when by a happy expedient the managers were caught in the act, as will be ascertained by reading the subjoined affidavit. The Mr. Ed. Keenan referred to is Wm. A. Wallace's representative in Western Pennsylvania, and is a citizen of Greensburg. Comment is unnecessary:

Between nine and ten o'clock this (Thursday) evening, I met E. J. Keenan at his office door, No. 104 Fifth avenue. I first stepped up to the door, tapped him on the shoulder and asked for Mr. Keenan. He replied, "What Keenan?" I said, "Ed. Keenan." He then said "That's my name." I made the remark to him that a certain gentleman, leader of the Democratic party in the Twelfth ward, had directed me to come and see him, (Keenan,) and it would be all right. I said to Keenan that I had got into a little fuss, and wanted to get out of town and go and vote against "old Alligator," meaning John Covode. He said, "that was all right." I went up stairs with Keenan, into his office, and had a conversation. He asked me what I worked at. I told him I could work at carpentering. He said he thought he could get me a job at Irwin's Station, and that if I was a bricklayer he could get me a job at Mr. McDermott's, at Irwin's, as they wanted bricklayers there. Keenan then left me and said he would be back in fifteen minutes. He came back, but said he had not been able to see the man he wanted. He then wanted me to wait until Saturday and go with him to Greensburg on the Johnstown Accommodation, I then said I must get off to-morrow (Friday.) He then pulled out a roll of money and gave me a dollar to pay my way out to Greensburg, at the same time directing me to go to Robert Blocks hotel, in that place, and wait until Saturday, when he would see me there and complete the arrangement. I asked him how they were getting along with their colonization scheme. He said, "First rate. I shipped eighteen men this afternoon." Keenan said that it did not matter whether I worked at all or not, and that it made no difference about Saturday being the best day, as they had the thing fixed. There was a meeting of a committee in the next room, and there was a conversation about naturalizing foreigners who had been in the country only one, two and three years. I heard the remark made that a man named Given, living on Point street, had went through the mill yesterday. One said there were a lot of Democratic bricklayers wanted at Irwin's Station.

I reside at the corner of Thirteenth and Smallman streets, in the Thirteenth Ward, of this city. If Ed. Keenan will call there he will get his dollar back.

HOW TO MANAGE OUR NATIONAL DEBT.

Extract from the Speech of the Hon. T. J. Bigham, at Wirtemberg, Lawrence County, on Tuesday Last.

We have two recent statements of the aggregate cost to this country of this wicked rebellion. One of these is by E. M. Stanton, ex-Secretary of War, in his Steubenville speech. No one can doubt the competency of Mr. Stanton to know and comprehend the magnitude of this debt. The other is by Edward Atkinson, the statistician of Boston, made from the official reports. These statements do not materially differ, and we may therefore assume that the entire expenditure of the National Government for the last eight years has been, in round numbers,

About	$4,800,000,000
Deduct for ordinary expenses	800,000,000
Total	$4,000,000,000
There has been already paid	1,500,000,000
Total debt	$2,500,000,000

Of this nearly $500,000,000 pays no interest—leaving of our interest bearing debt about two thousand millions. My first remark is that this debt is not one-half the encumbrance upon us, considering our wealth and population, which the debt of the Revolution was upon the wealth and population of our revolutionary ancestors in 1783. We have already within the last five years paid off three-eighths of this debt. Our loyal Congress has recently wisely repealed fully two hundred millions of annual war taxes. This remaining $2,500,000,000 is not over ten per cent. on the value of the property of the entire nation in 1868. By 1880 this amount would not be over five per cent. on the then value of our entire property. By 1890 it will not be over two per cent., and by the closing of the present century it will not be over one per cent. on the then wealth of the nation.

I therefore maintain that this generation, in sacrificing three hundred thousand of its best and bravest sons on the altar of national existence, and paying off three-fifths of this immense debt, has done its duty and its whole duty. All I would impose in the future would be enough to pay off the annual interest, and leave the principal to be met by my own and your own children of the twentieth century. They will inherit all the glory of a preserved national existence, and all the wealth we have to leave them. The lien of this price of our salvation, be it one, two, five or ten per cent. on that inheritance, need not alarm them. But if wisely and honestly managed, by the 4th day of July, 1876—the one-hundredth anniversary of the Declaration of American Independence—this debt, over which so many briny tears are shed by rebels and Copperheads, will cease to be a burthen. I want the whole to be funded at not exceeding four per cent. interest. Then I want—ay fifteen hundred millions—of it to be used as a basis of a national banking system, the banks using it to pay the entire interest upon the bonds. Your present National Banks pay over two per cent. taxation to the nation and the State. Throw open, not to the extent of three hundred millions, but to the extent of fifteen hundred millions, to all who desire to go into the banking business, and before five years you may have the whole fifteen hundred millions taken up as a basis of national banking. You, of course, will have to exempt these banks from all State and National taxes in consideration of their paying the interest upon the bonds hypothecated as security for their notes issued. We shall then have a stable National currency—and the interest upon the bonds will be paid by the banking associations. The interest upon the remaining one thousand millions will be paid by the people until it, too, will be required to furnish the basis for additional National banking. Before the close of the present century the whole twenty-five hundred millions will be required for this purpose, and the interest upon this debt will not cost the people one dollar.

In the darkest hours of this rebellion, when human agencies seemed to fail, God raised up men and agencies to give triumph to our arms. Lincoln and Stanton in the Cabinet; Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and their associates living, and their still more glorious company of martyred saints now reposing in their graves, were all the instruments of Divine Providence to preserve to us our free American institutions. So, too, if our faith fail not, if we have no policy but honesty, that same Almighty hand will raise up Alexander Hamiltons in the halls of Congress and in the Cabinet of President Grant to devise and mature a thorough, patriotic and American system of finance, first to fund our whole national debt and next to organize an American banking system which will be the admiration of the world and the envy of the monarchies of Europe. The rebels and their sympathizing allies had no faith in Providence during the dark days of the rebellion. Like the Israelites of old they were a stiff-necked and rebellious generation, that should be buried amid the desert sand on this side of the Jordan.

The Calebs, the Joshuas, the Samuels, the Davids, and the Solomons that are destined to enter the promised land, flowing with milk and honey, and to reorganize anew American institutions more glorious than was Israel of old, will be the men of faith and prayer, who never doubted but that God would overturn this wickedest rebellion ever organized since Lucifer rebelled against the Almighty. Trust the loyal men who saved this nation from the storm of rebellion, and have faith in the Divine Providence which saved us under Abraham Lincoln, and will reconstruct us under Grant, and all will be well.

LIEUT. FREDERICK H. BEECHER, U.S. A., son of Rev. Charles Beecher, who was killed in the recent Indian battle in Kansas, graduated at Bowdoin College in 1861, and immediately entered the service of his country as a Sergeant in Company B, Sixteenth Maine Volunteers, and was subsequently promoted Second Lieutenant and First Lieutenant respectively. He was twice severely wounded—at Fredericksburg, December 13, 1862, and at Gettysburg, July 1, 1863. The last time wounded he was even then suffering from the old wound, but could not be persuaded to remain away from his command. The severe nature of his wounds necessitated his transfer to the Veteran Reserve Corps, in which he served as Lieutenant until commissioned in the Regular Army by President Lincoln, in 1865. He served with great distinction since his appointment in the Ninth Cavalry, and had just been ordered to duty in the Signal Office in Washington, but was killed ere he could obey the order. He was a young man of excellent habits, and inspired with the purest patriotism.

THE Copperhead party has formally and officially committed itself to the principle of equal taxation of all property for the support of the government. The only question now to settle is the proper rate to be levied. Leading Democrats in Congress have proposed two per cent. as the rate of taxation for bonds. If this figure be adopted the farmer will be taxed two dollars per hundred on the cash valuation of land. That is, land worth fifty dollars per acre will pay a dollar per acre of taxes when the Copperheads come into power. Some people may like this mode of raising revenue, but we suspect that the agricultural class will demur. They had better do so at the polls.—Chicago Tribune.

PROFESSOR B. A. GOULD has recently compiled very full statistics on the subject of the respective nationalities of the members of the Union army, from which it appears that the white soldiers from the loyal States and Territories, excluding the Pacific, can be classed as follows: From the United States, 1,523,200; Germany, 176,800; Ireland, 144,200; British America, 53,500; England, 45,500; other foreign countries, 48,400; unknown, 26,500—making a total of 2,018,200. The per centage of natives of the United States is extremely large, amounting to near 76 per cent.

Mobbing a Ritualist.

The London correspondent of the New York Times says: "Yesterday Father Ignatius was mobbed in Lombard street. Some thousands of persons gathered from the from the banks and mercantile houses of this London Wall street; banged, roared and pelted at the police-locked gates of the church in which the English monk was preaching; pelted, insulted and grossly outraged ladies and clergymen as they ventured out, and the young Father himself was only saved from violence, perhaps death, by the adroit maneuvres of the police. He was at length, after several efforts, got away in a cab; and all this for a little bold preaching, a departure from the pulpit cowardice, which the newspapers have been denouncing. He said Lombard street was worse than Jericho, near which the man fell among thieves. He may have called its denizens a generation of vipers. He quoted Scripture at them. So hard is it to suit people. Preach smooth things and they despise you and go to sleep or stay at home; preach rough ones and they mob you and pelt your congregation."

MR. ULLMAN had made a contract with Dumas to come to this country. Its execution is postponed till next year, on account of the election. Dumas was to read from his own writings, and scenes from his plays were to be acted. The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Dumas has boasted in his memoirs of his talent for cooking; and it appears that of this, as of his other talents, he was to give palpable demonstration. After giving a reading and presiding at a performance he was to cook a dinner, of which the public would be allowed to partake, at the rate of $5 a head. Admittance to the literary banquet was to cost but $1. For reading, reciting, and cooking Dumas was to receive 25,000 francs a month, besides a share in the profits."

Remarkable Changes.

Wonderful changes are made sometimes by what would be supposed a simple invention. Paper bags, for instance, are now so popular for putting up flour that one of our largest dealers has made Bag Flours a speciality in his business and is furnishing Choice Flours in this way, and claims to offer great inducements to dealers. The speech of Carl Schurz at Chicago, last week, is published entire in the Weekly Commercial, now ready. It is conceded to be the ablest discussion of the issues in the canvass, that has yet appeared on the Republican side. As a specimen of argumentation and oratory it unquestionably excels all other speeches made up to this time. Persons wishing to obtain this great production should buy the Weekly Commercial.

The New York Sunday Mercury—a Democratic organ in the city—says the party is so badly disorganized that it has little or no prospect of success. From the moment the Tammany Convention finished its work, the tide began to turn for Grant, and it has increased till the prospect is wholly gone. In the view of the case the Mercury says:

[illegible]

The utmost vigilance will be necessary on the part of Republicans, to guard against fraudulent voters at the October election. Squads of new comers are making their appearance in this and many of the adjoining counties. These movements of strangers and carpet-baggers are not of chance. There is a purpose to be executed, and it is the duty of Vigilance Committees to see that no fraudulent means are used to reduce our majority. The presence of these men, at such a time, and under the circumstances detailed to us, is sufficient to put Republicans on their guard. By placing these squads of carpet-baggers under strict surveillance, they can be prevented from voting should the attempt be made.

The Brooklyn Eagle is paving the way for the substitution of McClellan for Seymour in the Presidential race. It has an article on the General's return from abroad, of which the following is a sample:

[illegible]

The General is coming into Pennsylvania to get as good a start for Seymour's place on the ticket as Blair has made. Things promise to be lively. Seymour's withdrawal is now almost universally regarded as the only thing that can save the party a single Northern State. The defeat of Grant is past hoping for, a few members of Congress may be saved, however.

In Philadelphia fraudulent naturalization has been and is still being carried on to a great extent under the auspices of the Democratic Committee. In the Supreme Court, access to the list was for some time denied, but such a position was too outrageous to be maintained, and the corrupt Star Chamber list is now open there to scrutiny. Men are every day found with papers, purporting to have them "put through the mill," who have not been in the country the required time. If he is only on the Democratic side, almost any body, even if he has been in the country only a single month, can procure naturalization papers. Such things are a scandal upon our judiciary. We urge on our political friends the necessity of vigilance in this matter. Scrutinize the list of the naturalized within the last month, and take measures to expose the frauds. Meanwhile, will not Judges introduce something like solemnity into the naturalization proceedings?

The New York Sun discusses the question of Mr. Seymour's withdrawal. It says:

[illegible]

The advice of the Sun is eminently sound. Thousands of Democrats, in regulating their individual action in this contest, have already concluded to act in accordance with it; thousands of others will do so before the day of election. Mr. Seymour is not withdrawing, they feel compelled to withdraw from him. The Sun concludes its article as follows:

[illegible]

HOW BLAIR OUGHT TO HAVE HIS NOMINATION.

When a correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, writing from Nashville, some weeks since, stated that the Ku-Klux of Tennessee owed their origin to Frank Blair's advice, the Democracy scoffed at the statement. It was so ridiculous as to make them almost burst their buttons. Well, perhaps it suited the Democracy to regard the story in that light, and to laugh down all attempts at a calm discussion of the subject, but since the General has fresh live mind in this city, we feel inclined to attach more importance to the story than we did when it was published. It was to this effect: "A gentleman now residing in Knoxville, Tennessee, stated that the first proposition he ever heard, looking to the overthrow of the State government of Tennessee, was made in the room occupied by General Frank Blair, in the Lamar House, on or about the night of the last of July, 1867." General Blair had just concluded his speech from the balcony of the hotel. He had been drinking freely and talked unreservedly. He argued that the State government was altogether unconstitutional, and ought to be overthrown. He thought that object could be best accomplished by the opponents of the system acting in concert, quietly. When they felt strong enough to assert their object, they should demand their rights. All this was predicated upon the belief that the Democracy would elect the next President. General Blair reiterated that nothing could be accomplished unless it was done quietly, and added that it was his intention to consult with a number of prominent men upon the subject, whose names were mentioned.

Now, whether Blair was the true or not, there can be no doubt of one thing. The dates are correct. Only those who are acquainted with the origin of the Ku-Klux in Tennessee are competent to judge as to the General's influence in creating the Klan. But of one thing we are positive; that the organization of the Klan dates back much farther than the majority of the Northern people suppose.

When a city paper (which has since admitted the existence of the organization) regarded the rumors of the lawlessness of the Ku-Klux as groundless, and wholly unworthy of credence, the organization was not confined to the South alone. Recent developments, public admissions on the part of Southern speakers and Southern journals, have demonstrated the entire correctness of the assertions made by the correspondent of the Commercial. There may be people who still doubt the existence of the organization. Time, however, will demonstrate the truth even to the doubters. Leaving this question, we come now to the action of the Convention which nominated Gen. Blair.

It has been admitted by leading Democrats North, as well as South, that Blair's letter to Broadhead did much to secure him the nomination. No one has questioned it. Neither the New York Democrat, nor the World, has thought proper to deny it. While the one declined in its usual lofty, reckless tone that the Broadhead letter did more than anything else to secure Blair's nomination, the other qualified its opinion, but did not dare to deny the fact. We think it is possible we have all been mistaken in this matter, and that General Blair's nomination was a foregone conclusion in the minds of the ruling spirits of the Tammany Convention. When we say the ruling spirits we mean the Southern delegates and their backers. Let us examine the relationship which exists between General Blair and those who were regarded as the spokesmen of the South in Tammany Hall. First, there is Wade Hampton, whose wife is a daughter of General Francis Preston, of Virginia, who lived and died at Abingdon, and whom Francis Preston Blair was named after. Wade Hampton's wife is half sister to F. P. Blair, Sr. Next, there is General Preston, of Kentucky, a nephew of General Preston, of Virginia, and cousin to Frank P. Blair, Jr. Both these men figured prominently on the floor of Tammany Hall. One of them boasted publicly of his success in obtaining "all the South asked for."

These facts warrant the suspicion that the nomination of Gen. Blair did not depend solely upon the Broadhead letter. It is not reasonable to suppose the Southern leaders would be guilty of the blunder of concentrating their forces upon a man who had nothing to recommend him beyond the sentiments expressed in the Broadhead letter. The letter might be requisite in order to complete the contract between Blair and his Southern allies, but more than that it could not accomplish with the scheming Southerners, who conceived the idea that they had now another opportunity to regain the power which had been wrested from them. They knew their man. Look at it in any light we may, it is our firm conviction that the Southern delegates had resolved upon casting their influence in favor of Blair long before the convention met. His nomination, like the declaration that the reconstruction acts were null and void, and the demand for equal taxation were foregone conclusions in the minds of those who moulded the proceedings and influenced the choice of the convention.

EQUAL TAXATION.

[illegible]

This demand for equal taxation, which is the fourth in the Tammany platform, and which we thought had been disposed fully as much as the Democracy desired, still shows out from the corner of a country Democratic exchange, which finds its way to us. No doubt the editor of the journal in question has his own ideas of conducting the canvass, and deems this fourth demand of the Democratic platform at least a plausible argument. That depends mainly upon the character of his subscribers. If they are caught by sound, or never take the trouble to look below the surface, perhaps he is correct; but if they are intelligent, shrewd men, given to reflection, and feel their way to a conclusion, our country editor is doing irreparable damage to the Democratic cause, and aiding the Republican party. Hoping that his subscribers are embraced in the last category, we would be sorry to see the big letters containing this demand removed. We admit, however, that it would read fully as well, and convey the real meaning of those who framed it much more clearly if expressed thus:

[illegible]

There we have, in bold characters, the primary object of the men who framed the demand, since it is plain that "equal taxation" was dimly conceived upon in the outset, and the tax upon bonds an after-thought, else why were they included? And even yet there is a plausible, vacuous hint of the demand calculated to catch the public ear. "Equal taxation!" Well, now, that is just what the country wants, especially. Government, if it means the honest thing, will do all in its power to equalize taxation. However it may be about the bonds, surely there can be nothing wrong in demanding equal taxation. Let us examine this subject calmly and see who is right, the farmer who wants "equal taxation," or the man who desires to see taxes apportioned in such a manner as not to interfere with the interests of any branch of industry. "Every species of property" includes everything in a poor man's house, from his pewter spoons to the old-fashioned silver watch which is an heir-loom from his grandfather; from a paper of pins to the pine bedstead. When the demand of "equal taxation" is enforced, the tax-gatherer will come the farmer's cage before they are sold, his fruit, his meat, his winter pork, his corn—everything will be embraced under the head of "every species of property."

People who have grumbled at a "stamp tax" will be compelled to pay a tax on lands, horses, stock, cattle, agricultural implements and chickens, for chickens will be "property." A "chicken tax," or a "hog tax," we opine, would not prove conducive to the husbandman of the country, but we must come to that when we perfect our system of equal taxation. Everything and everybody will be taxed. Is that not clear enough? What other language could describe "equal taxation."

All these things are now exempt. A man whose income does not exceed $1,000 is exempted from taxes, save for school and local purposes. The plate, the coaches, the elegant residences, the carts, fine gold watches, and the income of the wealthier portion of the country are now taxed. The industries, not the necessaries of the country, are taxed. Not long since a Republican Congress removed the tax from ten thousand articles manufactured in the country. This was wise. The object was to advance by the consumer. They desired to encourage industry and home manufactures. Carry out the fourth demand of the Democratic platform and the time will come when every poor woman who owns and makes her living by the sewing machine, will be taxed to support the government. Every way except every poor man's home, will be taxed by the party which pretends to advocate rights of the people. Whoever desires to see the industry of the country clogged, the people a nation of tax-payers, ridden down by an army of tax gatherers, and farm lands mortgaged to pay the taxes, will sustain the Tammany Platform by voting the Democratic ticket.

THE SUPREME AND DISTRICT JUDGESHIP.

There is a possibility that the Hon. Henry W. Williams may not accept the position on the Supreme Bench of the State, so promptly tendered him by Governor Geary. He has been absent for some time, and a dispatch was received from him yesterday, in which he merely states that he will be home in a day or two. This dispatch was sent after he had been apprised of his appointment, and it is a fair presumption that he has not yet decided whether he will accept or decline the position tendered him. Under the belief that he will accept, the names of several members of the bar have been freely used in connection with the succession to the Judgeship of the District Court of this county. Among those most prominently spoken of, are A. M. Brown, Esq., John P. Penney, Esq., John H. Kerr, Esq., David Reed, Esq., James Veech, Esq., Seymour B. Green, Esq., and Thomas Ewing, Esq. The friends of these gentlemen were actively engaged yesterday in furthering their chances, but some of them, at least, had not consented to become candidates up to last evening. Of course, the Governor can take no action in this matter until he has heard definitely from Judge Williams, and should the latter gentleman accept, it is possible that some time will elapse before his successor is appointed.

[illegible]

The Harrisburg Telegraph says the immediate reason why Judge Strong resigned from the Supreme Bench of the State, was "because he could not sanction the illegal and tyrannical course pursued by his Democratic brethren on the bench," in regard to the naturalization of foreigners in Philadelphia. The Telegraph says:

[illegible]

GENERAL DIX.

Further Evidences of His Earnest Indorsement of Gen. Grant.

[From the Galena (Ill.) Gazette, September 25.]

A letter from Gen. Dix was received in this city yesterday, giving his views about the two candidates for the Presidency. We copy it entire, omitting only the opening paragraph:

PARIS, September 4, 1868.

[illegible]

I am, dear sir, truly yours,
JOHN A. DIX.

In order to fully appreciate General Dix's patriotism, it should be known that he intends returning to this country in the spring, no matter how the election results; his advocacy of General Grant, therefore, originates in no desire to retain his position abroad. His family have already returned.

What, perhaps, is still more to the credit of the illustrious patriot who has served the country so long in affairs of state, as well as in the field, is that in January last, when his own name was prominently mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination, and when the ground that the Democratic Convention would take was still uncertain, Gen. Dix wrote to another friend in the United States as follows:

"PARIS, Jan. 20, 1868.—I have thought for a year that Grant should be President. [illegible]"

POLITICAL.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post says: A prominent New York politician has just returned here from a visit to several of the Southern States, where he had gone for the purpose of consulting with the leading men in that section on the future political policy of their States. He bore letters from Governor Seymour and General Rosecrans, both of whom approved the object of his mission. [illegible]

Blair will enter Chicago on the 31st of October. Amen!

Our reports from General Butler's district indicate the probable selection of Richard H. Dana, Jr., as the opposition Republican candidate for Congress, [illegible]

That was a very fair offer made by General Sickles in one of his recent speeches, [illegible]

Gen. Sickles recently addressed a letter to a gentleman in Cleveland, in which he made use of the following language: "I am required to hear from every quarter that Ohio is sure for Grant. Pennsylvania is all right, and do not regard me as a rash man when I tell you that New York is as sure for Grant as Ohio."

The following, which we clip from the Hartford Post, has so much "salt" in it that we are tempted to submit it to our readers:

An Irish Rebellion.

[From the N. Y. Times.]

There has been indications within the last week or two that our Irish-born fellow-citizens do not at all intend to be led by the nose by the Democratic leaders in the present Presidential campaign. [illegible]

SMALL NOTES.

The World takes up the cudgels for Mr. Delmar, and begins by asking whether, if Mr. Delmar's figures are correct, his ability as a statesman is worth discussing? We wonder if the editor of the World would admit a total stranger to his family fireside, and bestow his confidence upon him, solely upon the strength of his own recommendations. Would he trust his own judgment in the matter of purchasing a full blooded horse from a stranger, accepting the stranger's assurance that the title and pedigree were "all right," instead of demanding some tangible proof? Would he permit an unknown man, who claimed to be a first class farrier to treat his favorite full blood? We think not. How does it happen then that in this matter of much more importance the World is willing to rely upon its own judgment, and the assertions of the statistician? The World admits that Mr. DELMAR "may at some time, on some other subject, have made estimates without sufficient data," but thinks in the present case "he has amply ascertainable data." Notwithstanding which, it is plain to every one who can put two and two together that Mr. Delmar has been guilty of a trifling error amounting forty-two millions. A man who has proved himself incompetent in one case, will bear close criticism. But the World does not know of, nor can any one else point to a single instance where Dr. Elder was guilty of a single error. We have fallen upon singular times if a man's ability for the performance of a task requiring peculiar powers and experience is not to be questioned.

The New York Tribune, alluding to the Water street movement, makes use of the following language:

[illegible]

There is nothing delusive in this language. It is plain, common sense. It explains the difference between practical religion and theoretical religion. Theoretical religion bewails the fate of the degraded and fallen; practical religion stretches out its hand, places the fallen on new ground, infuses courage, steadies them with words of cheer and comfort, and all with the least possible display.

The founder of the Louisville Journal, whose fame as a witty paragraphist was once a household word, and has never been equalled, has been discharged from that office. Mr. Prentice has written very little for the Journal during the last two years. Domestic afflictions, the greatest of which was the loss of his wife recently, and intemperate habits have made him a mere wreck. Those who are intimate with Mr. Prentice assert that a more genial companion or better disposed man does not live. It is sadly true that he has been discharged by the present proprietors of the Journal who, of course, understand their own business best; would it not be appropriate on the part of the fraternity in remembering his former services, to do what may be necessary to provide for the living instead of waiting to show their appreciation in words when he has passed away—as soon he must?

While we feel somewhat sorry at losing an honest Judge from the Supreme Bench, [illegible]

[From the Philadelphia Press.]

Governor Geary will unquestionably see the necessity of filling it at this juncture with a gentleman who can accept and enter on his duties at once. [illegible]

[From the Philadelphia Bulletin.]

It is generally taken for granted that the Governor will tender the position to the Hon. H. W. Williams, of Pittsburgh, [illegible]

[Philadelphia Special to Chronicle.]

The appointment of Hon. H. W. Williams, of Pittsburgh, to our Supreme Bench, in place of Judge Strong, resigned, is hailed with delight by the Republicans, and it is generally regarded as a happy selection at this time.

Exports and Imports.

The actual exports and imports of merchandise and exports of specie at New York have been as follows from January 1st to this date, in the present and three previous years:

[illegible]

It is interesting to notice the specie exports in connection with the excess of the amount of imports over exports, [illegible]

The Harrisburg Telegraph announces that colonizing is going on extensively in that city. A few days since a committee of Democrats waited upon the assessor of one of the wards of that city with a list of names to be placed upon the assessment list, but the assessor declined doing so without first seeing the men. The committee retired and returned with two men only. The integrity of the assessor prevented their attempted fraud.

THE STAMPEDE.

More Accessions to Grant.

CHICAGO, September 29.—Major General A. L. Williams, of Michigan, who commanded the Twentieth Corps, in Sherman's army, and was the Democratic candidate for Governor of Michigan in 1866, has written a letter in favor of the election of Grant and Colfax. It is published in the Tribune of this morning. Gen. Williams is now United States Minister to San Salvador.

Judge Gidley, of Jackson, Michigan, hitherto one of the leading Democrats of that State, has come out for Grant and Colfax.

Dr. R. Z. Mason, of Appleton, Wisconsin, who was a prominent candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Fifth District of that State, addressed the people of Appleton, last week, in favor of Grant and Colfax.

The Hon. Donald J. Warner, of Salisbury, Ct., an able lawyer of Litchfield county bar, who was one of the Democrats chosen by the Democratic State Convention last June to represent the party in the New York Convention, has come out for Grant and Colfax. He made an address recently, giving his reasons for leaving his old political associates.

James Thompson, of Columbus, Ohio, a member of the National Democratic Executive Committee, has come out for Grant and Colfax.

The Fond du Lac (Wisconsin) Commonwealth publishes the names of two hundred and sixty soldiers who announce their intention of voting for Grant and Colfax.

Bishop Kerfoot.

In his sermon on the Episcopal Office, on last Sunday morning, the Rector of St. Paul's Church of Erie, Pa., had occasion to refer to Bishop Kerfoot, of this Diocese, in the following deserving manner:

"Our own Bishop is not the least among the members of that venerable order. He is the man for the position. He is earnest, direct and wise. He is wholly devoted to his work, in season—out of season. He is an example to all over whom the Holy Ghost has made him an overseer. Under such a Bishop all can work with confidence. The enthusiasm and energy with which he labors is to all a sound him an inspiration. He is pure in doctrine, sound in speech, [illegible] All who know of his Apostolic labors [illegible] He is a truly Apostolic Bishop in warmth and largeness of heart; in the love and wisdom that come from above; in zeal for the truth; in devotion to the blessed Gospel and its propagation, and to the saving of souls."

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium, being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a Life Insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or to its General Agents.

LOCAL AGENTS ARE WANTED in every City and Town; and applications from competent parties for such agencies, with suitable indorsement, should be addressed to THE COMPANY'S GENERAL AGENTS ONLY, in their respective districts.
